CHARGES FDR'S TRADE POLICIES MAKE U.S. 'GOAT'

Republican Chairman
Hamilton Hits Lowering of Tariff Bars

AMERICAN LABOR MADE TO SUFFER

G. O. P. Chief Speaks at Youngstown, Sebring
Rallies

The Republican party, says National Chairman John Hamilton, is "opposed to this country being made the goat in world trade."

Hamilton, moving through Ohio on behalf of the Republican ticket, criticized in an address at Youngstown last night Roosevelt administration tariff reductions in foreign trade treaties.

"Republicans are not opposed to foreign trade," he said. "They are not opposed to trade reciprocity; but they are opposed to unreasonable reductions in American tariff rates under the guise of reciprocity."

400 At Sebring Meeting

Speaking earlier last evening in Sebring, Hamilton addressed the largest political gathering in the village's history. Three hundred and fifty persons attended the dinner, with 50 more coming to the high school building just before the Republican leader made his speech.

His talk was the same as he delivered before his Youngstown audience, striking at the reciprocal trade agreement.

Fifteen Republican delegates from Salem and 10 from East Liverpool were at the Sebring meeting. F. F. Dick, Taggart of Massillon, national Ohio committeeman, and Russell G. Chase of Canton, who was secretary to President William McKinley, attended.

Thad C. Rose of Youngstown, Mahoning county G. O. P. chairman, Carl D. Shale, Mahoning vice chairman, and Byron Wade, executive secretary, also were present. Wade acted as master of ceremonies.

Hamilton accused the New Deal of reducing tariffs to a point where foreign goods could undersell American goods in home markets "on commodities which this country can produce at a reasonable cost to the consumer."

"When American workers are walking the streets looking for jobs," Hamilton said, "Republicans

FALL FATAL TO FILM ACTRESS

Dorothy Hale Plunges to Death From 16th Floor
Of New York Hotel

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Dorothy Hale, motion picture actress, plunged to her death early today from a window of her 16th floor room in the Hampshire house, exclusive hotel overlooking Central park.

Mrs. Hale, who a few years ago was described by a Hollywood producer as a "great movie find," was the widow of Gardiner Hale, of Chicago, who was killed in 1931 when his automobile went over a 500-foot cliff in California.

Detective James Leach, who made a preliminary investigation, said the actress might have fallen from the window when she attempted to open it shortly after she returned to her room at 6:20 a. m.

Reports that Mrs. Hale had become engaged to Harry L. Hopkins, WPA administrator, were denied last summer.

The victim's body was clad in a black dinner dress with gold ornaments. A corsage of tea roses clung to her bosom.

A search of her room yielded a letter addressed to "Mrs. Dorothy Hale" which had been sent by a sister, Betty Donovan of Pittsburgh.

Among the outstanding motion pictures in which Mrs. Hale appeared was "Catherine the Great." Dorothy Hale was a close friend of tall, golden-haired Rosamond Pinchoff, socially prominent actress who attained fame at 17 in the Biblical spectacle, "The Miracle."

It was found dead of carbon monoxide poisoning in the garage of her Long Island estate near Oyster Bay last Jan. 24.

Hopkins, sometimes called a cabinet minister without portfolio, is one of the closest intimates of President Roosevelt.

He was called to Washington by the President after extensive social work in New York state.

His wife, the former Barbara Duncan Hopkins, died about a year ago.

Another in the series of regular trapshoots at the Salem Country club will be held at 2 p. m. Sunday, open to all amateurs or professionals who care to participate in the sport.

Hunters of the district who desire to improve their marksmanship are urged by George Baillie, club sports committee chairman, to attend.

ANDREWS HITS AT OPPOSITION TO LABOR LAW

Assails Plants Which Intend To Shut Down
Monday

"INTIMIDATION" EFFORT IS SEEN

Cites Cases of Delinquency Among "Small Minority"

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Elmer F. Andrews, wage-hour administrator, hit out today at industries which he said intended to shut down Monday to avoid compliance with the new Fair Labor Standards Act.

"These suspensions of operations seem to have been timed in an effort to bring the law into disrepute, evidently, with the hope of intimidating the wage and hour division in its administration of the law's provisions," Andrews said in a statement.

"It must be plainly understood, however, that the fair labor standards act is the law of the land, with severe penalties for its violation and that the wage and hour division has no choice but to carry out the will of congress.

Promises Enforcement

"In translating that will into action, the wage and hour division will enforce the act uniformly and compellingly, with forbearance but without partiality."

Andrews said millions of Americans welcomed the opportunity to help "inoculate our economic system against the virus of sweatshops."

"Unfortunately, however," he added, "there is a small and scattered minority who apparently are unwilling or incapable of contributing to the common good. These delinquents, whose number and importance are magnified by their isolation, resort to subterfuge in an effort to camouflage their selfishness and blame the fair labor standards act for their own anti-social conduct."

In his statement, Andrews did not say how many employers had told him they would close up. But, discussing some of the reports that had come to his attention, he said that one employer, who pays his 275 workers between $3 and $3 a week, had demanded that 80 per cent of these employees be classed as learners so that he might continue to pay them less than 25 cents an hour.

Many of these workers had worked for that employer four years, Andrews said.

Threatens Shut-down

The administrator mentioned that another employer, who had been paying his 6,000 workers 22 cents an hour, had threatened to shut down rather than increase wages to the act's 25 cents an hour minimum.

Still another, he said, wanted to cut every worker over 40 handicapped and continue to pay him what Andrews described as a sub-standard wage.

"Some plants have been run at capacity for weeks to build up inventories preparatory to a shut down which would be blamed on the Fair Labor Standards Act," Andrews said.

County Will Seek Bids for Highway

LISBON, Oct. 21.—County commissioners immediately will advertise for bids for constructing a new road between East Palestine and New Waterford, it was announced today, the former advertisement being declared void as all requirements of the PWA had not been included in the bid.

Late for the opening of the new bids has not been determined. Former bids that had been held in excess, have been returned to the bidders.

It is said the new road will be completed within a few months after a bid has been accepted and contract awarded.

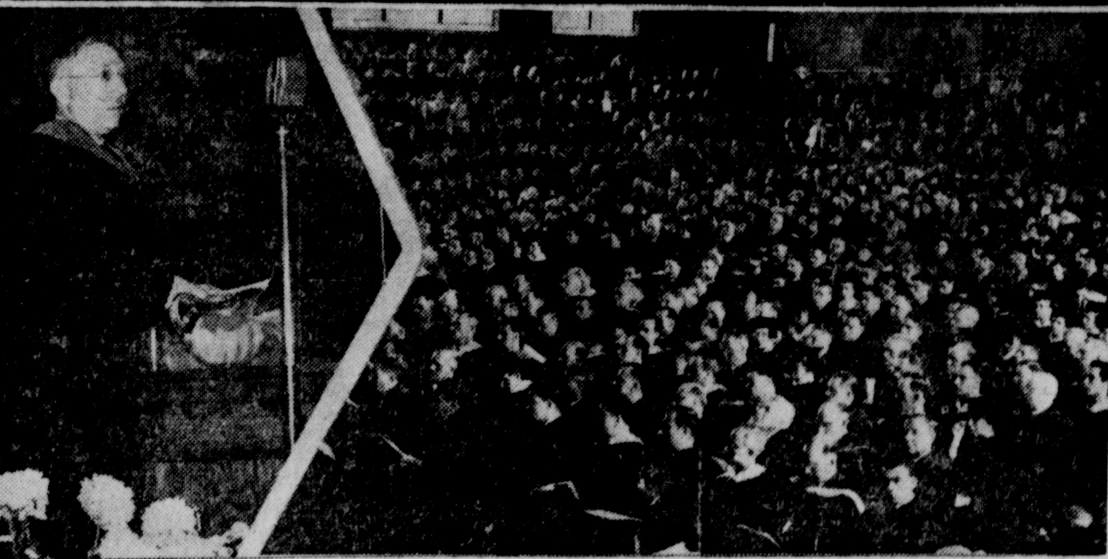

Motorist Unhurt

LISBON, Oct. 21.—Henry Hebing of Cleveland escaped when his car failed to negotiate a turn in the road at the fairgrounds last night and overturned.

Hanoverton's Corn Husking Champ to Defend His Laurels

Edwin King To Face 13 Contenders for County Honors In Saturday Competition

LISBON, Oct. 21.—Edwin King of Hanoverton, for two years corn husking champion of Columbiana county will defend his title Saturday morning against 13 contenders in a contest to be held at H. W. Bowman's farm, Elkrun township.

The championship contest is part of a program occupying the entire day. In the afternoon, events featuring women, boys, girls and men over 65 will be conducted. Prizes donated by Columbiana county business houses will be awarded.

Taking part in the main event are Orville Burbeck, Beloit R. D. 2; Mr. King; Harry Vincent, Lisbon R. D. 4; Silas Peppel, Leetonia R. D. 3; Charles Moser, Hanoverton; W. F. Burdough, Lisbon R. D.; Elvie Pike, Beloit R. D. 2; Lester Vincent, Lisbon R. D.; William Pierce, Lisbon R. D. 3; Frank Pierce, Lisbon R. D. 3; Tony Pierce, Lisbon R. D. 3.

Entries in the afternoon contests are not complete, but six persons have made application to date. They are: Boys and girls: Dean Burdough, Lisbon R. D. Men over 65: D. M. McCaskey, Lisbon R. D. 3; O. W. Frederick, Leetonia R. D. 1, and E. G. Weaver, Moultrie, Ladies: Mrs. H. R. McPherson, Hanoverton, and Mrs. Roy Ewing, Lisbon R. D.

Contestants will be lined up facing rows of shocked corn. At a signal each man throws the first shock to the ground, husking the ears and proceeding to the next. The entrant is accompanied by a crew of four, a referee, two gleaners and a man to pick up the corn. In judging the weight, the marketable corn left in the fodder is multiplied by three and deducted from the total husked. Deductions also are made for husks left on the ear.

The referees are Raymond Kibler, Beloit R. D. 2; D. H. King, Lisbon R. D. 3; C. L. Bowman, Lisbon R. D. 4; R. C. Hoke, Lisbon R. D. 5; R. L. Miller, Leetonia, R. Gift of Organ Announced by College Head

man Make Presentation to College

Mount Union college yesterday received its first major gift under the administration of its fifth president, Dr. Charles Burgess Ketcham.

The gift, an organ, from Mr. and Mrs. James Amerman of Canton, was used during the inauguration ceremonies for Dr. Ketcham, at Memorial hall on Mount Union campus.

Receipts of the gift was announced by Dr. Ketcham, who said: "This gift comes from Mr. and Mrs. James Amerman, who have long been connected in a very intimate way, both with Alliance and with Mount Union college."

"Since 1936, Mr. Amerman has been a member of the Mount Union board of trustees and is now also a member of our executive committee. I am happy to announce a further expression of their generosity."

"This organ is given to the college by Mr. and Mrs. Amerman in memory of their daughter, Mary Elizabeth, who, if she were living, would at this time be a student in Mount Union college. This gift is a double installation, complete both for this Memorial hall and for the conservatory building. This organ will be known in perpetuity as 'The Mary Elizabeth Amerman Memorial Organ.'"

There was a large attendance at the public reception for Dr. and Mrs. Ketcham last night.

Founder's day was observed today, with an address by Dr. Lynn Harold Hough, dean of Drew Theological seminary, who gave the 24th Carr lecture on "The Mission of the Christian College to the World." Louis H. Brush gave an historical sketch of the college, observing its ninety-second anniversary.

TYPHOON KILLS 226 IN JAPAN

35,000 Are Left Homeless
By Unseasonable
Storm

(By Associated Press)
TOKYO, Oct. 21.—A typhoon

coasted in from the sea today, taking at least 226 lives and injuring more than 500 persons. About 230 persons were missing.

The unseasonable storm which lashed waters overland along the coastal reaches of Japan in the Tokyo-Yokohama district and elsewhere rendered an estimated 35,000 persons homeless.

More than 24,000 houses in Tokyo were flooded and some collapsed. Tokyo's communications and transportation were partly paralyzed.

Tens of thousands of workers were unable to reach places of employment in the capital and most schools were closed. The typhoon also caused much damage at Yokohama. All sailings from that port city were suspended.

Seven passenger ships scheduled to arrive at Yokohama this morning failed to dock.

The storm first struck the Kagoshima district of Kyushu, south-westernmost main island of Japan, and a few hours later swept into the Honshu mainland, hundreds of miles to the northeast.

About 20 fishing boats were missing off Choshi and Chibi prefecture.

The weather improved shortly after noon and the sun shone again on a vista of wreckage.

Church to Observe Family Day Sunday

LISBON, Oct. 21.—"Family day" will be observed at the Presbyterian church this Sunday with special recognition accorded the largest family group attending the services.

Rev. J. Morgan Cox, will speak on "The Home America Needs." Preparations were completed at a meeting held Thursday evening at the home of Miss Anna Myers, East Chestnut st.

CONGRESS AIDS STUDY HIKE ON INCOME LEVIES

Recommendations To Be Made by Experts At Next Session

SUGGEST BOOST OF 10 PER CENT

Would Apply to Both Individual and Corporate Incomes

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Congressional tax experts are studying several proposals for increasing income taxes to finance an expanded armament program.

These experts—staff members of the joint committee on internal revenue—will make recommendations for tax legislation at the next session of congress.

10 Per Cent Suggested

Informed persons said an emergency 10 per cent increase in income taxes was one method under consideration. The increase would apply to both individual and corporate incomes. On the basis of this year's revenue estimates, it would yield an additional $200,000,000.

Tax authorities said the additional levy would be imposed for only a year or two, and would expire automatically at the end of the designated period. They asserted that it would be simple to compute, because a taxpayer merely would figure his tax on the present basis and then add 10 per cent.

Great Britain, faced with sharply mounting rearmament costs, already has adopted a similar emergency levy.

Various proposals to reshuffle existing income tax rates being studied, include one by Senator La Follette (Prog-Wis) to reduce existing income tax exemptions from $1,000 to $800 for single individuals and from $2,500 to $2,000 for married persons.

In Event of War

Consideration is being given to taxation needs in event of war.

Senator Connally (D-Tex) has suggested the imposition of drastic income tax increases in such a contingency. His proposal is designed to help finance war activities and, coincidentally, hold down wartime profits.

Members of congressional tax committees are expected to discuss the various suggestions informally before congress meets. Revenue authorities said, however, that no definite program could be formulated until it is known precisely how much the administration will ask for defense.

President Roosevelt has said an extra $150,000,000 would be needed for naval construction, but additional outlays for the army have not been estimated.

Think of Present, Not the Past, Is Dr. Sayer's Advice

Dr. Frank G. Sayers, of Rochester, N. Y., former business man, told Salem Kiwanians to keep their "Eyes Front" in an inspirational address following the club's weekly luncheon, Thursday in the Memorial building.

Dr. Sayers reminded his hearers that they were created to look forward. He advised them to forget about their yesterdays and think about today.

"Talking about the things of yesterday," he commented, "is a sure sign of age. If you'll notice, the old fellow talks about the things he did 20 or 30 years ago, as the case may be; the young fellow, about the things he's going to do; so don't give yourself away."

Dr. Sayers dwelt briefly on war and its horrors, in line with his theme, "Eyes Front," to the end that human beings the world over may eventually become neighbors, instead of enemies.

He decried war's commercialism and solemnly declared that every congressman who voted for war should be compelled to enlist first and be the first into the front line trenches—in the capacities of buck privates and not generals.

Expanding on this thought, he also expressed the opinion that, if there were a war, men over 68 should be called first.

"They've lived their lives," he emphasized, "and youth has not. He was presented by Harold Williams."

THE THINGS THAT LAST

Dr. Charles Burgess Ketcham, inaugurated as the fifth president of Mt. Union college Thursday, will have the privilege, granted health and reasonable good fortune, of conducting it into its second century of service.

His inauguration fell on the college's 92nd anniversary. He is its fifth president in nine decades. This is a sign of unusual stability. It is pleasant to be reminded that in a chaotic world the things that last—colleges and religions—are dedicated wholly to the betterment of humanity.

Mt. Union college has filled a place of usefulness satisfactorily, and contemporaries will insist that its greatest glory still lies in the future, though they make allowances for the vigorous pride of sons and daughters who are sure their alma mater never was the same after they left it.

It is from colleges like Mt. Union that have gone out most of the leaders and most of the rank and file of the college-trained men and women of America. Such colleges never have needed to apologize for their contribution to a better world, though they have been too busy with their task to do much boasting.

It is only on rare occasions, like inauguration of a new president, that time is borrowed from the work at hand to indulge in a brief interval of well earned satisfaction over a job being well done, but which must be done better tomorrow.

"NO MORE WOLVES"

The fable about the little boy who cried "Wolf!" too often is being re-enacted in 1938 with a new twist.

Starting some days ago with a "spokesman's" interview to the effect there should be an end to saber rattling, government has been attempting to convince businessmen an era of sweetness and light is at hand.

The campaign reached its zenith when Anne O'Hare McCormick wrote in The New York Times last Sunday that President Roosevelt had told her in an interview there would be no more new deal surprises; that henceforth official policy called for backing and filling.

Unfortunately, this isn't the first, nor the second, nor the third time the administration has purred. "No more wolves." The same assurance has been given at yearly intervals and subsequently denied by subsequent action ever since the new deal started.

So this time there's a serious possibility that reassurance won't prove reassuring—serious because reassurance is needed. Unlike the ancients, who rushed to defend their flocks from a false alarm so many times they quit taking the cry of "Wolf!" seriously, today's Americans will find it hard to believe the reassuring murmur of "No more wolves" till they've been shown. That's the modern twist to the story.

If the ancients had demanded proof, they wouldn't have been fooled so often they grew careless and lost their sheep. A couple centuries of civilization have made men skeptical.

THE ANTI-MCCARTHY VOTE

There's no fool-proof way of knowing what a vote means, but an ear to the ground is sure to catch this intended meaning of some of the votes to be cast next month:

That the voters want to make it plain they are opposed to legislative Charlie McCarthies with no thoughts except those planted in their wooden heads by an executive Edgar Bergen. The anti-McCarthy vote promises to be heavy.

If anyone doubts this is so, popular interest in Herbert Hoover's recent statements of an opposition point of view should dispel the doubt. This is not a plug for Mr. Hoover, who needs no plugging anyway, but an observation that after six years in which congressional independence was conspicuous by its absence there seems to be more, not less, belief in its necessity.

It is being recognized that what Mr. Hoover says about political freedom is true—that it can be saved only in congress, which is its symbol. A candidate who intends to be a ventriloquist's dummy if elected is a graver threat to political freedom than all the avowed enemies of representative democracy combined.

This matter has nothing whatever to do with party designations. It is not a political issue; no one ever is opposed to freedom, not even an authoritarian. It is wholly a matter of reasserting faith in political freedom by voting for candidates who at least seem to believe in it.

SPYING

Most of it can be blamed on Mata Hari, who built the post-war generation up for an awful let-down about spies.

Certainly the spy trial running in New York City as a kind of "tie-in" attraction during a period of intense excitement over international friction, alien influences and frantic preparation for war fails to support the notion that there's any glamor about spying, at least when the other fellow does it.

At best, it's high class snooping, and at its worst, which must be the common form, it's a sordid process of snitching information, most of which could be obtained honorably, and selling it to cheap-jack peddlers. Mata Hari would turn up her pretty nose at it.

It smells bad.

"DREAM HOUSE"

The "dream house" being built for Franklin D. Roosevelt, on his Hyde Park estate as his contribution to better housing illustrates a strange situation in American housing conditions.

What the President thinks of as a cottage, in comparison with the formal mansion on his estate and the mansions in Albany and Washington where he has lived, is a palace to all the under-privileged lowest third of the population and to most of the middle third, whose privileged status is a matter of opinion.

Yet, there is every reason to believe he will enjoy it not one whit less than would those who must skimp to meet their rent. Better housing, as the experts have discovered, is entirely a question of comparisons.

It is a further commentary on the conveniences all Americans deserve to enjoy that Mr. Roosevelt looks forward happily to the absence in his "dream house" of that prime modern convenience, the telephone.

THE STARS SAY:

For Saturday, October 22.

The astral influences for this day point to great progress and prosperity, with affairs moving under high pressure, stimulated by an expansive ambition to accomplish mighty and enduring objectives. And while all such are under fine stimuli, with much promise of achievement, there may be tenacious obstacles, disappointments and postponements to cope with. Some arduous effort may excite bitter opposition or hostility, which should be met with tact, diplomacy or strategy.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a year of great opportunity, with promises of success and prosperity. However, their aggressive and bold efforts may provoke hostility, enmity and bitter opposition. These would be best manipulated by quiet methods, rather than open friction.

A child born on this day may be capable, versatile and have great energy and high ambitions. It may work under high pressure and meet much opposition and enmity. Its ultimate success depends on early training and direction.

Uncle Sam is selling wheat to Mexico for less than its cost and buying silver at more than its worth—but we suppose the Administration calls that being a good neighbor!

We know we are asking a lot, but wouldn't it be rather nice if the government in Washington would quit posing as a benevolent overlord and try being the servant of the people?

Count that day as lost, whose low descending sun, finds not another crackpot pension plan launched by some crazy son of a gun!

Varicose Veins Treated Through Injection Method

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

IN SPEAKING of the arteries in the last few articles this week, we noted that they are inclined to lose their elasticity with the advance of age.

The same thing is true, in a way, of the veins, the companion vessels of the arteries which return the blood to the heart. The vein wall may become chalky and weak, and the vein valves may break down. This is particularly likely to occur in the veins of the legs. The condition is called varicose veins.

It is commonly said that the veins of the legs become varicose because the blood column there is longest and its weight breaks down the valves in the veins. It is also said that the condition is commonest in people who stand on their feet a great part of the day, such as clerks in stores.

Filled With Lime

But it has been my observation that the varicose veins I have examined after removal by operation are quite stiff and filled with lime deposits. I am inclined to believe it is this change as much as the mechanical strain which brings on varicosities.

The condition is quite common. I should say that 40 per cent of those over 50 years of age have some amount of it. As for the occupational incidence among those who work on their feet, some of the worst cases I have ever seen have occurred in those who have been on their feet only at the rarest intervals and under the direst necessity.

The veins bring the blood back to the heart simply by the crowding of more blood from behind. There is no pump action from the heart to force the venous blood on. Therefore nature has provided valves so as to hold a column of blood until it is crowded upward. When these valves break down, the veins are swollen at that point and become tortuous.

Old Treatment

Formerly the only measures of treatment available were wearing an elastic stocking and operation. In addition to those, there has now been developed the method of injection which is a great boon to many patients.

"The principle of the injection method," writes Dr. Otto Meyer, of New York, in the magazine Health and Wealth, "is to inject a non-poisonous solution into the varicose veins. This causes them to shrink (be obliterated). The inner wall of the vein swells all around, meets in the middle of the opening and grows completely together."

These treatments can be given in the doctor's office, and it has not been found necessary to rest after the treatment. The patient can go about the ordinary duties right away.

No general anaesthetic is required. The length of time required for cure in a favorable case is about two to six months. There are no scars if the technique has been successful.

Altogether, in proper cases, it is a real boon on every count.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Seven pamphlets by Dr. Clendinging can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin, for each, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendinging, 235 W. 45th st., New York City. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene," and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

OUR READERS

Editor, The News:

I can not understand why there are not more property owners in Salem taking advantage of the WPA proposition on sidewalks.

A 50-foot front, 4 feet wide, lot can be laid under WPA for about $18.

This price is for the material only. WPA will do all the work free of cost to the property owner. It would also give Saletites the work. There are thousands of feet of walks in Salem that are a disgrace and a liability and should be repaired or a new walk laid.

Regarding the new roads under WPA I can not see why there can not be some way worked out to lend to these owners of property who can not lay the cash on the line at this time.

Take Prospect street for an example. There are some who have not the cash at this time. Because of this the whole street is held up. The cost of a dollar a foot is cheap enough, but if a property owner has not the $50 for a 50-foot frontage, well, he just hasn't got it. If he could borrow the required amount at a small interest charge for two years from the banks or government which would mean about a $2 payment monthly with interest it would not only help him but would start things moving.

Any property would surely be worth a $50 or $80 lien on it. Me for better streets and walks.

Tackles Old Job

ELMHURST, Ill. — Harold Haas began playing tackle for Elmhurst college in 1929 and he'll be in there at the same post in the game against Carnegie tomorrow.

No college will protest his eligibility, however.

Haas played in 1929 and 1930, dropped out of school for eight years, and is back for his diploma. The old veteran beat out a bunch of young fellows for his regular line position.

KITCHEN WORK INSPIRES POET

Woman Verse Writer Has Best Ideas While Washing Dishes

CLEVELAND — Pots, pans and poetry all are mingled together in the life of Mrs. Elenore Pfaller, 23, verse-writing housewife, who gets her best ideas "while washing the dishes."

Leafy dells and babbling brooks are not needed to inspire the young woman, who has been writing verse between meals and mopping for 12 years.

"I don't have to make it up," she said, emptying a dustpan. "I just write it down as the words come to me."

Her subjects range from a trip to the hospital to the recent European crisis, with prize fights, air disasters and odes on love sandwiched between.

While mopping the kitchen floor Mrs. Pfaller began thinking about all the troubles in Europe, and wrote:

"White crosses of the great war
Are trampled by marching men;
Soldiers of yesterday rest no more;
Drums are beating above them again."

Most ardent admirer of her times is her husband, a machinist, who is saving money for a typewriter for her.

Defendants in Spy Trial in New York Court

Erich Glaser, Johanna Hofmann and Otto Voss

Johanna Hofmann, former hairdresser aboard the German liner Europa, and Otto Voss, German-born U. S. airplane mechanic. Each was expected to take the stand.

Mrs. H. W. Young Is Hostess To Baptist Missionary Unit

Baptist Women's Missionary society, meeting Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. W. Young on Highland ave., heard interesting talks on mission work by guest speakers.

The visitors were Mrs. Alexander of Canton, president of the Baptist Women's Missionary society of the Wooster association, whose topic concerned the advancement of womanhood through a period of development in Christian work; and Mrs. H. E. Bowen of Canton, interpreter or co-ordinator for the Wooster Baptist association, who spoke on mission work in India.

Mrs. Alexander emphasized that Christian strength lies in unity and that the future development of the work is allied with individual as well as united responsibility.

Mrs. Bowen discussed the life, customs, religion, caste system and Christian activities in India, giving interesting incidents in the work of Miss Darrington, missionary nurse in a hospital at Angole, India. Miss Darrington is a former Cleveland Baptist church member. The speaker pointed out that individual responsibility holds the hope for India.

The topic for the meeting, in connection with the general study theme, "Bridges," was "The Individual's Responsibility for Christian Citizenship."

A letter from the White Cross mission station in China was read, acknowledging the gift sent by the Salem group.

Mrs. Frank Brudery, leader of the devotional service, used as her subject, "On the Bridge." She read an article, "America First," and two papers, "Assets of Life" and "The Power of Prayer."

Mrs. S. T. Magann was chairman of the program committee.

Refreshments were served by the hostess committee which included Mrs. Young, Mrs. Ellwood Hammill and Mrs. F. L. Blevins.

The next meeting will be Nov. 17, at the church.

Mrs. J. F. Bentley Class Hostess

The Bethlehem class of the Methodist church was entertained Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. E. Bentley, East State st.

Twenty-three members and two guests were present.

The devotional service was in charge of Mrs. Eva McNeelan.

Following the business meeting a program was presented in charge of Mrs. W. H. Matthews. Mrs. D. R. McConnell gave a short talk on "What's the Hurry" and Mrs. Matthews read an interesting article on "Being Domestic."

Lunch was served by Mrs. Bentley and assistant hostesses, Mrs. Phil Chancellor, Mrs. R. C. Pichler, Mrs. T. R. Whinnery and Mrs. E. M. Peters.

The next meeting will be Nov. 17 at the home of Mrs. Chancellor, East State st.

Mrs. Waldo Horst Complimented

Mrs. Waldo Horst of Columbiana, formerly Miss Emma Mae Kaufman, was complimented at a shower, honoring her recent marriage, given by Mrs. Lois Swope at her home North Lima last evening.

Mrs. Horst before her marriage was associated with Salem City hospital as surgery supervisor.

A shower of miscellaneous gifts was presented Mrs. Horst, who received them in a "fish pond." Cards and games were enjoyed, with prizes going to Mrs. Russell Limestone and Mrs. Roderick Bertelle of Salem.

Lunch was served by the hostess, Friends from Salem, Columbiana and North Lima attended.

National Sanitary Group Has Party

Girls employed in the office of the National Sanitary company held a surprise party last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Feiten, Mound st., honoring their first wedding anniversary.

The guests presented the couple a shower of paper gifts. Miss Elsie Posar and Mrs. Clara Fagley were visitors.

Bridge and "500" were enjoyed during the evening, followed by a buffet lunch. Halloween decorations made the table attractive.

Honor Mrs. Ida Wyss At Housewarming

A group of 25 friends from North Georgetown held a surprise housewarming party Wednesday evening for Mrs. Ida Wyss and family at their new home 888 Prospect st.

Mrs. Wyss and family recently moved here from North Georgetown.

Guests presented the hostess a gift and the evening was spent informally with games. Lunch was served.

Eastern Stars Plan Card Party

A card party for Eastern Star members and their friends will be given at 2 p. m. Saturday at the Maroon temple. A large attendance is expected.

Marriage License

A marriage license has been granted at Lisbon to L. W. Pile of New York City and Virginia Lee Ready of East Liverpool.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Armstrong McGarty of Cleveland st., have left for Orlando, Fla., to spend the winter.

Mrs. James Groner has resigned her position at the R. S. McCulloch store. Mrs. Pearl Holloway will succeed Mrs. Groner.

Miss Esther Mohr is confined to her home with a sprained ankle.

Actress Is Honorary Mayor

Glenda Farrell and Otto Kreuger

Although she was in New York on a vacation instead of back home electioneering, Glenda Farrell, screen actress, was elected mayor of North Hollywood by nearly three to one over Bing Crosby. The position is an honorary one. Glenda is shown in New York, lighting a cigar for Otto Kreuger, actor, also in New York.

Social Events In Lisbon

Announcement was made here Thursday of the recent marriage of Paul Todd, former Lisbon resident, and Miss Mabel Ruth Bowler of Tucson, Ariz. The couple was married in that city early in the week with the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Ira Todd of Lisbon, attending.

Masons and members of the Eastern Star are planning a Halloween party to be held at the Masonic temple Oct. 31. The party will follow a coverdinner.

Personals

Mrs. D. S. McMinn visited Canfield friends Thursday afternoon.

Clinton Apple is a surgical patient at the Salem City hospital.

Mrs. Ada Hamilton has returned to her home in Cleveland following a visit at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mark Brewster.

Hire Baby Expert

SAN FRANCISCO — Lulu, a favorite at a local zoo, will have expert care for her blessed event next month. The city fathers appropriated $200 for a giraffe maternity specialist.

Lulu and her mate, William, are said to be the only breeding giraffes in the country. They already have one colt, born last year.

Progressive Mothers Bring Marionette Show to Salem

Recognizing the fact that American audiences are rapidly becoming enthusiastic over puppet shows, the Progressive Mothers club has announced the appearance here on Nov. 3 of the nationally known Rufus Rose marionette show.

Public schools will be dismissed

Thursday afternoon at 2:30 to permit youngsters to attend a special matinee in the High school auditorium when the favorite child's fairy tale, "Pinocchio," will be presented.

Adults will see "Treasure Island" and a Variety show in the evening performance at the High school auditorium.

The troupe, making its eighth national tour, has been seen at the Chicago World's fair and at smart cafes and night-clubs throughout the country. Rufus and Margo Rose were associated for three years with Tony Sarg, recognized as among the greatest puppet and marionette exhibitors today.

Since the early Punch and Judy shows, both adults and children have enjoyed the make-believe adventures of "the little people."

The presentation of the plays "Pinocchio," the story of a puppet, for children and "Treasure Island" for adults, and the Variety show featuring representations of stage and screen stars, offers an occasion for the entire family to enjoy novel and delightful entertainment.

Mrs. Holland W. Cameron is president of the Mothers club and Mrs. Lowell Brown is general chairman of the committee in charge of the marionette show, which has been arranged to procure funds for aiding underprivileged children of the city.

Seek Location for Veterans' Hospital

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21. — The federal board of hospitalization called a hearing today to determine where to locate a new veterans' hospital in the Cleveland area.

The Public Works Administration has allocated $1,000,000 for the 24-bed institution. Of this amount, not more than $150,000 may be used for a site. The allotment once was rescinded because construction could not be undertaken as quickly as the PWA desired, but later was restored.

The veterans administration said a survey showed that the Cleveland area was one of those where there was a shortage of general medical beds.

Delegations from Cleveland and Stark county were among those expected to be heard.

Galati Trial Gets Recess To Monday

YOUNGSTOWN, Oct. 21. — Jurors hearing the first-degree murder trial of Thomas Galati, Cleveland police character, were given a long weekend holiday when the collapse of Defense Attorney Clyde W. Osborne yesterday forced postponement of the trial until Monday.

Galati is on trial for the death of Roy (Happy) Marino, Youngstown racketeer in a gangland plot of September, 1937.

Record Hunt

OMAHA, Neb. — Joseph P. Gallagher says he is 70, but is having a difficult time proving it so he might qualify for a pension.

He couldn't find records of his birth, baptism, first communion or confirmation. He did, however, find his name on the Creighton college roster of 1884, but his age was not entered.

His last hope: That his prep school at Prairie Du Chien, Wis., might have his age recorded.

Hold Women's Rally

WELLSVILLE, Oct. 21. — Mrs. Lawrence Imhoff, wife of the congressman, Miss Marie Dickson, of Jefferson county, and Miss Esther Pinsky, assistant to Attorney General Herbert S. Duffy, were speakers at a meeting of the Women's Democratic club of Columbiana county here last night.

Ex-Auditor Held

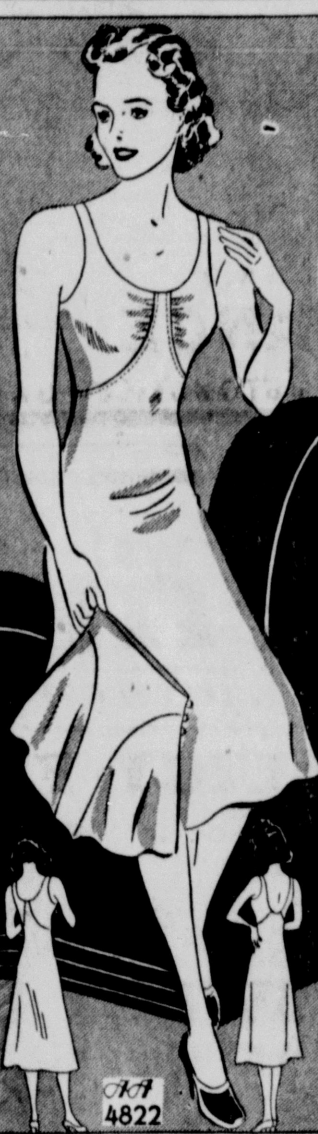

NEW PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 21. — Ralph Richardson, former Tuscarawas county auditor now serving a one-to-ten year sentence in Ohio penitentiary for fraud, today was under indictment on 17 other counts charging forgery and embezzlement.

Dinner Is Planned

LISBON, Oct. 21. — Board of education members and teachers of Yellow Creek school district will hold a dinner at 6:30 p. m. Tuesday in the Fairview school building at Hillcrest. The Parent-Teacher association will serve the meal.

LONDON—Peter and Jackie, two of the London zoo's best-known chimpanzees, were taken to the movies to see the film "Monkey Into Man," in which they starred. Close-ups of chimps and orangutans, including a dance, provoked the most interest from Peter and Jackie.

Europe Learns of European News in Newspapers of U.S.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—It took American newspapers to tell Europeans what really was happening in the recent Czechoslovak crisis, says Abbe Ernest Dimnet, French author and lecturer.

Calling American freedom of the press one of the remaining bright rays in a darkening world, Abbe Dimnet, who arrived yesterday on the liner Champlain, said Europeans never really understood what was happening around them until the American newspaper arrived, days after it was all over.

Prepare Defense in Murder Hearing

LISBON, Oct. 21.—In preparing their defense for Charles Flory, Lisbon murder defendant, Att'y Alfred Pitch of Salem and Walter Beck of Lisbon today filed request with Prosecutor Karl Stouffer to see all confessions and statements made by Flory after he shot his wife, Florence, at their farm home near here Aug. 1.
Counsel cited a similar procedure in the case of Norman Smith, North Lima farm hand who slew three persons. The Mahoning county common pleas court granted the request and later the court of appeals affirmed it.

Jewelry Stolen in E. Liverpool Home

EAST LIVERPOOL, Oct. 21.—A burglar who climbed over a side porch to go through an unlocked second story window, stole jewelry valued at $1,200 at the home of John D. Dallas, 311 W. Sixth st., Thursday night.
The robbery was discovered when Dallas returned home at 10 o'clock. Burned matches were found scattered throughout the house and Sheriff Harry L. Gosney was called to take fingerprints. The loot included rings and watches.

Singer Before Grand Jury

Edith Snyder and Ruth Etting

Nervous and fretful, Ruth Etting, the radio singer, appears before the county grand jury in Los Angeles to tell of the shooting of her husband, Myrdal Alderman, in a fray which landed her former husband, Martin Snyder, in jail under an indictment on charges of shooting. Miss Etting later was served with papers in the $150,000 alienation of affections suit filed by Alderman's divorced wife. Shown with Miss Etting, seen at the right, is Edith Snyder, daughter of the accused Snyder.

FRANCO KEEPS JUSTICE FILES

Names Are Card Indexed And Divided Into Three Groups

SARAGOSSA, Spain.—A card index of 1,500,000 persons in enemy territory has been put together by the Auditoria del Ejercito de Ocupacion, which deals with military justice in the occupied territories. Headquarters are in Saragossa.

This gigantic index is increased daily with information from captured documents and the testimony of prisoners and deserters, all of whom are required to make sworn statements and, if necessary, appear before the accused to corroborate their evidence.

While the majority of the index represents persons of loyalist tendencies, it includes names of thousands of nationalist sympathizers also.

Whenever a prisoner is captured, his name is sent to the Auditoria to see if he is classified. Prisoners are divided into three classes, A, B and C.

A's Released

The A's are nationalist sympathizers, allegedly forcibly enrolled in the enemy's forces. These are released at once. If of military age, they join the nationalist forces.

The B's are persons who, although having no proved criminal record, are considered to be unfavorable to the nationalist cause. They are enrolled in the prisoners' labor corps to build roads.

The C's are those who have a dossier, against whom proof exists of criminal actions, especially assassinations. The head of the Auditoria (whose name is kept secret) explained that the latter class represented 5 to 8 per cent of the prisoners. They are either persons who have directly taken part in assassinations or who have instigated them. The Auditoria head said that in many pueblos local committees were formed who marked out as victims certain inhabitants who were taken away by circulating bands belonging to the FAI or the UGT.

This official said it was remarkable how many assassinations could be attributed to the same persons; consequently the number of criminals who had committed murder is relatively small. While every death sentence meted out by military courts receives the opinion of the Auditoria and final confirmation from Generalissimo Francisco Franco, acting on the sentence of court martial and the viewpoint of the Auditoria, the number of criminals whose sentences thus far have been commuted to prison have been about 40 per cent.

Court Martial Procedure

The nationalist court martial system is considered thorough. After the prisoner is interrogated and it is found he should be tried, he first is confronted with the charges against him and also the persons giving evidence against him. During the court martial he is represented by counsel whose duty it is to tell everything in his favor and where a crime seems evident to plead extenuating circumstances. It was explained that it frequently

A Rowboat Pulls the Queen Mary

Well, that tiny rowboat with the two men in it isn't actually pulling the Queen Mary, England's huge 82,000-ton liner, into its berth at New York, but because the tugs were on strike the huge ship had to warp into the pier under her own power. The two tiny men in rowboat carried one of the hawsers to shore.

happens that persons who have committed the same crime together receive different sentences, depending on the "Marxist influence." This sentence then is sent to the Auditoria, where the military officer in charge studies the sentence, and if he sees fit to differ, he writes his own opinion. In case of a death sentence, the court martial decree and the observations of the Auditoria are then sent to Franco who, with the aid of his own legal advisers, decides whether to confirm the sentence.

Mrs. James Anderson and children accompanied her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Randolph, and her grandmother, Mrs. Flora Poto of Alliance, to Lorain on Sunday where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Firestone.

Birthday Observance

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wang and family were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Stoller on Sunday honoring the seventh birthday anniversaries of Dick Stoller and John Wang, Oct. 16 being the birthday anniversary of both little boys.

Little Miss Helen Marie Bowers of Cleveland spent the weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Reno.

The Women's Missionary society of the Lutheran church met at the home of Mrs. Peter Berger on Monday evening. Mrs. J. E. Finney had charge of the devotional peried and Mrs. Ida Wyss led the study on the subject "Advancing in Christian Stewardship." The November meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Sam Wang. Mrs. Ross Liber of Homeworth will be the leader.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wang, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wang and Miss Gene Wang visited Mrs. Melle Sipe and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Davis at New Middletown on Sunday afternoon.

Miss Evelyn Berger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Berger, is attending a business school at Canton.

Mrs. A. L. Reichenbach and sons Kenneth and Eugene, Miss Hilda Whitacre and Donald Reichenbach visited Mr. and Mrs. James Snyder of Fremont on Sunday.

Due to the fact that the attendance was so large and many persons could not gain admission to the Lutheran church on Sunday evening, Oct. 9, when the pageant, "A Light That Is Set on a Hill," was presented, the cast of 40 persons will repeat the pageant on Sunday evening.

This is a historical pageant written by Mrs. J. E. Finney for the celebration of the 125th anniversary of the founding of Emmanuel Lutheran church of North Georgetown.

AUSTRALIA MAPS WHEAT CONTROL

Approves Plan For Fixing Price and Duty On Flour

SYDNEY, N. S. W. — A fixed domestic price for wheat, a variable excise duty on flour, and perhaps a penny rise in the price of bread—that is how Australia hopes to solve the problems of her wheat growers.

The Federal cabinet has approved a plan for a Federal Wheat Board, which will be submitted to the states. Under the plan the state government will fix 4 shillings and 8 pence (about $1.16 as the home consumption price for wheat.

Since the states are not allowed to impose duties that would affect commerce between them, the Commonwealth government will impose a variable excise duty on flour for all Australia. The duty will represent the difference between world prices for wheat and 4 shillings and 8 pence.

The board will advise on flour prices and what should be the rate of excise. Bread is expected to increase by one penny per two-pound loaf.

The state premiers unanimously agreed to the scheme at a conference in Sydney. They considered that there would be no practicable plan based on the voluntary cooperation of growers, millers and merchants.

The premier of New South Wales, Bertram Stevens, admits there will be some additional cost to the consumers.

"But they will benefit by the strengthening of the whole economic structure," he said. "A period of low prices, such as appears to be imminent, would involve a big reduction in the incomes of the 70,000 wheat producers of Australia."

Here and There -- About Town

Two Traffic Accidents
Automobiles driven by Mrs. Ellis Satterthwaite of the Depot road and Miss Mary Borten of 192 W. Fourth st., figured in a collision at the intersection of State st. and Ellsworth ave. at 7:10 p. m. Thursday.

Patrolman Paul Ormsby said the crash occurred when Miss Borten attempted to make a left turn in front of Mrs. Satterthwaite. No one was injured.

Chalmers Groves of 988 Spring st. told police his car struck a machine bearing license L-521-C when the latter pulled out in front of him on State st. at Penn ave. at 5 p. m. yesterday.

Ah, Mounted Policemen
A pony owned by Frederick P. Mullins, S. Lincoln ave., got loose and went on a trot up Franklin st. last night, narrowly escaping being hit by an automobile.

The motorist, whose name was not learned, stopped and tied the animal to a telephone pole; then called police.

Patrolman Paul Ormsby rode the pony in to police headquarters and stabled it at L. R. Cobbs' barns.

Wins Place in Choir
Miss Ruth Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Wright of South Lincoln ave., has been selected as a member of the choir of Penn Hall Junior college at Chambersburg, Pa., where she is a student.

Selections for the choir, which comprises 25 students, are made by the dean of the music school after competitive try-outs.

Reports Attempted Burglary
William Brobender told Patrolman Clifford Todd yesterday that someone attempted to get into his shoe shine parlor on South Broadway the night before.

A rear door was jammed so badly that it would not close after being unlocked.

In Radio Broadcast
Leo Copacio Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Copacio, who won first prize in an amateur contest over radio station, WKBN, Youngstown, last Saturday, will be on the air over the same station at 10 a. m. tomorrow.

No Sunday Night Service
The Winona Gurney Friends Sunday night church service has been canceled. Christian Endeavor will be held as usual at 6:45.

Hospital Notes
John Yarian of New Waterford has entered Salem City hospital for surgical treatment.

will not permit a flood of foreign-made goods manufactured and produced by cheap labor abroad to enter the American market to compete with our mills, factories and farms."

U. S. Workers Lose
He quoted a bulletin on America's wage earners protective conference, which he identified as an AFL agency, as saying imports of meat, corn and cottonseed oil in 1937, processed abroad in plants supported by American capital, "deprived American workers of not less than $22,000,000 in wages."

Hamilton added that shoes made in Czechoslovakia were delivered in American cities at prices 53 percent less than the cost of producing comparable American-made shoes.

The Republican chairman is to deliver two addresses tonight at Cleveland on behalf of the candidacies of Robert A. Taft and John W. Bricker, candidates for U. S. senator and governor.

Tax Rise Defined For Canton Group

CANTON, Oct. 21. — Fred Ayer, dean of the engineering and commerce college of Akron university, told the Junior Chamber of Commerce here last night "taxes will continue to rise so long as the people keep expecting more from government."

"As long as government jobs are patronage and not under civil service, taxes will keep going up, too," he added.

To correct the faults in the present system and put democracy on a sounder basis, Ayer suggested the organization of "citizens' committees to check on fraudulent officials" and urged that the voters "get busy at the primary elections."

At "Stork Theater"

Unique announcements in the form of a theater ticket, have informed friends of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Yengling, 1015 Liberty st., of the birth of a son to the couple at the Salem City hospital. The ticket, on the "Stork theater," announces presentation of "The Second Heir to the Yengling Millions," starring Theodore Frank Yengling, the new arrival.

The customers, the ticket says, are by a nationally known infants wear firm; the music, "Howling Success." The statistics reveal the "star" is seven pounds, four ounces. The management reserves the right to cancel personal appearances if star is sleeping or dining.

FATHERS, SONS HOLD BANQUET

Columbiana Grace Reformed Church Dinner Is Successful

COLUMBIANA, Oct. 21. — One hundred men and boys were in attendance Wednesday evening at the father-son banquet sponsored by the Churchmen's Brotherhood of Grace Reformed church, the dinner being served by members of the Women's Missionary society.

The guest-speaker was Dr. Claude Norris, Youngstown, who gave some excellent advice to both fathers and sons. He was accompanied by Rev. Roland Luhnman, pastor of First Reformed church, Youngstown, who made a brief talk, as did Rev. W. R. Gohrecht, R. V. Harold, president of the Columbiana Parent-Teacher association Wednesday evening in the school auditorium, with about 75 present.

Miss Mae Ashman was appointed publicity chairman, and the following were named on the program committee: Mrs. R. J. Esterly, Miss Nellie Koch, Miss Dorothy Martin, Mrs. C. F. Coppock and Rev. C. J. Sutorius.

P. T. A. Opens Season
Mrs. Carl Keller presided at the opening fall meeting of the Columbiana Parent-Teacher association Wednesday evening in the school auditorium, with about 75 present.

Miss Mae Ashman was appointed publicity chairman, and the following were named on the program committee: Mrs. R. J. Esterly, Miss Nellie Koch, Miss Dorothy Martin, Mrs. C. F. Coppock and Rev. C. J. Sutorius.

Room mothers were appointed for each grade and held a meeting Thursday afternoon to make plans for a membership drive. The resignation of Mrs. C. R. Todd as secretary was accepted.

It was decided to have refreshments this year instead of banner awards for the room with the most parents present at meeting. The program included an interesting travel-talk by Mrs. Virginia Felger, on her Alaskan trip. C. R. King, local school music supervisor, favored with two trumpet solos, accompanied by Mrs. E. F. Miller. Refreshments were served by Mesdames Edgar Rapp, Edward Dowd and Edward Urschler.

Mrs. C. E. Bender welcomed members of the Sorosis club Wednesday evening at her home. Mrs. C. R. Todd presided during the business meeting and Mrs. R. E. Weaver reviewed chapters one and two of the study book, "Give Yourself Background."

Mrs. Wick Fry read a paper, "The Story of Opera." Roll call responses were names of favorite musical selections. Two new members, Mrs. Ray Exten and Mrs. J. A. Richardson, were welcomed. Mrs. Ralph Hum will entertain at the next meeting in two weeks.

Missionary Meeting
Mrs. M. L. Forbes presided at the October meeting of the Presbyterian ian Missionary society Wednesday afternoon in the absence of Mrs. J. C. Strubel. Mrs. Forbes also led devotionals and Mrs. Will Rupert had the prayer calendar. Mrs. Lauren Myers had for her subject, "India," and Mrs. Elizabeth Decker gave a travel-talk on her trip to Alaska.

The class of the Presbyterian Sunday school taught by Ellen Esterly held a Halloween party Wednesday evening at the church with 12 present to enjoy games and a lunch.

Dr. D. W. Benninghoff has purchased the D. W. Benninghoff home, north of town and will take possession Nov. 1. Mr. Benninghoff and family will move to town during the construction of a new residence on Firestone ave.

Mahoning Sawyer Workers Lose Jobs

YOUNGSTOWN, Oct. 21.—Peter J. Corli, campaign manager for Charles Sawyer in Mahoning county, was dismissed today as county sales tax manager "in the interest of economy."

His dismissal and that of Wallace H. Schesler, wine inspector in the sales tax department, who also is acting in the Sawyer campaign for the governorship take effect tomorrow.

The letter to Corli from George A. Edge, secretary of the state tax commission, said his dismissal was necessitated by the financial condition of the tax commission.

Corli's only comment was: "Anybody can figure out whether it was for economic reasons or otherwise."

Corli said he first was asked to resign, but refused.

Corli was elected county Democratic chairman after the Democratic primary in which he supported Martin L. Davey, who lost to Sawyer, but kept his place in the state convention which most state employees boycotted. He was designated by Sawyer and Arthur Limbach, state chairman, to manage the campaign here.

VATICAN AGAIN REBUKES NAZIS

Pope Irritated by Party's Attitude Toward The Church

(By Associated Press)
CASTEL GANDOLFO, Oct. 21. — A new rebuke was added today to the list of pronouncements from the Vatican quarters reflecting Pope Pius' irritation with the Nazi attitude toward the church.

It was reported by the Vatican news service to have been delivered by the pontiff yesterday in a discourse to several hundred delegates to the Christian Archeological congress.

Authoritative Vatican sources declined to quote him but said he made "very grave references" to events in Germany and Austria, including a Nazi attack on the deposed Cardinal Innitzer's palace in Vienna Oct. 8-9.

Running Fire of Criticism
For months, the Vatican organ, L'Osservatore Romano, and the Pope in speeches and remarks to pilgrims have kept up virtually a running fire of criticism of Nazi doctrines and actions.

When Rome blazed with Swastika flags for Chancellor Adolf Hitler's visit in May, the Pope was reported by the newspaper as lamenting "that the insignia of another cross that is not the cross of Christ" should be raised in Rome on Holy Cross day.

Some of these criticisms have aroused conflict with Italian Fascists. Typical was the Pope's question about the adoption of the Italian race policy when he asked July 29, "why in the world has Italy unfortunately felt the need to imitate Germany?"

To this Premier Benito Mussolini replied indignantly that it was absurd to say that Italy was imitating anybody.

L'Osservatore Romano repeatedly has scored the Nazis for the attack on Cardinal Innitzer, which the newspaper's director called an example of "brute force."

Scores "Lies"
The organ declared German authorities in that case had added "to brutal aggression the lying denunciation of its victims" by blaming Catholics for the trouble.

During the German-Czechoslovak crisis last month, L'Osservatore Romano asserted that Europe was on the brink of war "not as has been contended (by the Nazi-Fascist press) to maintain the feudal lordship of one state over a people not its own, but to maintain a date—Oct. 1 (set by Hitler to march into Czechoslovakia unless his demands on Sudetenland were met).

CRIPPLED SALEM GRID TEAM FACES WELLSVILLE

QUAKERS SEEK THIRD WIN IN GAME TONIGHT

Battle Wellsville Bengals With Two Regulars Missing

With two regulars missing from the lineup, a crippled Salem High school football team invades Nicholson stadium in Wellsville tonight to resume an old gridiron rivalry with Wellsville High school's Bengals.

Both teams will be making their second starts in Columbiana county competition, seeking their third wins of the 1938 season.

The Quakers have broken even in four games to date, while Wellsville has posted two victories in five contests.

Salem has scored 83 points to its opponents 44 in defeating Sebring and Ravenna and losing to East Liverpool and Struthers. The Bengals have scored only 27 points to their opponents 52 in winning over East Palestine and Toronto, tying Youngstown Scienceville and losing to Ellwood City, Pa., and Dover.

The two teams will be meeting on the gridiron in the 28th game between the rival schools. The game will have no bearing on the county championship race since East Liverpool has practically clinched the title.

In the past 27 games between the two schools, Salem has won 19 times and Wellsville seven. One game ended in a tie. The Quakers handed the Bengals a 26 to 0 defeat in last year's contest.

The Bengals are expected to bombard the Quakers with an aerial attack. Wellsville also figures that its best chance to score will come through the air lanes in view of the fact that the Quakers have been weak in pass defense so far this season.

Leading the Bengals' air attack will be Jack Call, who is rated as one of the finest passers in the district.

The Quakers are counting on a fast-charging forward wall to rush the Wellsville passer and either drop him behind the line of scrimmage before he can toss the pigskin or crowd him so that his passes will not be accurate.

Planning the fancy attack, Coach Carl Schroeder has instructed his local charges to stick to straight football and depend on power plays to overcome the Bengals. Wellsville's line has been notably weak in past games and has not been able to withstand continual power drives.

The Quakers will be minus the services of two regulars, Captain Bill Schaeffer and Mike Guappone, both of whom are laid up with injuries.

There is a possibility that Schaeffer, veteran left end and most experienced player on the squad, may break into the lineup but Guappone is suffering from an infected hand which may be placed in a cast so he can play.

Guappone broke his left hand in the Struthers game last week and has been absent from practice sessions all this week.

Starting time for the game is 8 o'clock. Probable starting lineups are:

WOULD ABOLISH TRY FOR POINT

Dorais Favors Dropping Extra Point To End Old Argument

DETROIT, Oct. 21.—Charles E. (Gus) Dorais, veteran head coach at the University of Detroit, advocates abolishing the entire argument over football's point after touchdown by abolishing it and counting a touchdown seven points.

Dorais would settle the scores by ruling the team which makes the most yards from scrimmage the victor.

The Detroit coach had made tentative arrangements to try out the theory Nov. 27 when his team meets Santa Clara at Sacramento, Calif.

Buck Shaw, Santa Clara coach, is willing to cooperate, it was understood here.

The plan provides for an official scorer who would keep a record of yardage gained.

If such a change were made in intercollegiate football rules it no longer would be possible for one team to lose a game by a single point after outplaying an opponent.

University of Michigan fans argue that the Wolverines would have beaten Minnesota last week if the Dorais plan had been used. The final score was Minnesota 7, Michigan 6. Many other games have gone the same way.

Proponents of the point after touchdown argue that it is a tradition of the sport and that a one-point reward for the team with an accurate kicker or converter of any other kind is fair enough.

BOWLING RESULTS

The second-place Salem Label Co. gained a step on the first-place Merit Shoes in the Commercial League race last night, taking three games from Berg Bretzels while the Shoemakers were held to two wins over the Leetonia Super Service.

The Label Co. now trails the Merit quintet by only one game. The Salem News moved into third place with three wins over the Washington Odd Fellows, while in other matches the Salem Polo Club won two out of three games from the Grate Recreation team.

Smith's Creamery won two out of three from the Crescent Machine and the newly-formed Grate West End Service Station team took two out of three heats with the Ohio Bell.

BARKER FAVORS IRISH, FORDHAM AND DARTMOUTH

Michigan Is Choice Over Yale, Baylor Over Texas A. & M.

BY HERBERT W. BARKER

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Inadequately prepared for the ambush that undoubtedly lies just ahead, this corner more or less boldly hazards the following guesses on the outcome of this week's program:

Notre Dame—Carnegie Tech: Conquerors of Holy Cross, masters now of Bill Kern's Pitt football system and long-time jinx for the "Fighting Irish," Carnegie Tech believes it can win this one. Nevertheless this ballot, strictly unguaranteed, goes to Notre Dame.

Yale—Michigan: In the conviction that Michigan is one of the country's ten best teams, this vote goes to Wolverines despite the fact Yale has always been troublesome for Crisler-coached outfits.

Harvard—Dartmouth: The Harvards may have won moral victories over Cornell and Army but the payoff still is on the outfit which scores the most points. Dartmouth.

Fordham—Oregon: The Webfoots are strong, but Fordham, with one big game finally under its belt, rates the call.

Holy Cross—Georgia: On the rebound after the unexpected Carnegie Tech defeat, Holy Cross.

Baylor—Texas A. & M.: May be overly "bullish" on Baylor's W.Bears but this nod is in their general direction.

Stanford—Southern California: None figures closer than this. The coin says... Southern California.

Georgia Tech—Auburn: Very little to choose but Auburn seems to be hitting its stride and gets the nod.

Pitt—Southern Methodist: Couldn't pick anybody but Pitt.

Cornell—Penn State: Cornell, handsly.

Temple—Boston College: Close enough. Temple.

Duquesne—Mississippi State: Take State and hope for the best.

Penn—Columbia: Two of last week's upset victims collide and the selection, out of the hat, is Columbia.

Navy—Princeton: A shot in the dark, Princeton.

Iowa—Colgate: Colgate's done so well against major opposition that the Red Raiders seem to rate an edge.

Michigan State—Syracuse: Hard to see how Syracuse can hold its peak here, Michigan State.

Illinois—Northwestern: Northwestern to squeeze past Illinois' rugged defense.

Purdue—Wisconsin: Eerie meenie... Purdue.

Indiana—Kansas State: Virtual toss-up but the coin says Indiana.

Ohio State—Chicago: Should be easy for Ohio's Buckeyes.

Oklahoma—Nebraska: Nobody yet has found a way to halt the Sooners. This probably will be close but the choice is Oklahoma.

Iowa State—Kansas: Apparently nothing to worry Iowa State.

Washington (St. Louis)—Missouri: Missouri's aerial bombs may pull the Tigers through this one.

Marquette—Texas Christian: Marquette spilled one southwest conference team but it would be a minor miracle if Christian failed to win here.

Alabama—Sewanee: What will be the final score? Alabama.

Louisiana State—Vanderbilt: This represents cruel and unusual punishment for the selectors. A possibly mistaken vote of confidence in L. S. U.

Tennessee—Citadel: The Citadel stormed Tennessee.

North Carolina State—Furman: Duke-Wake Forest: Ditto Duke.

Davidson—North Carolina: And North Carolina.

Washington & Lee—Virginia Tech: Looks like the Generals.

Rice—Texas: Can this be the spot where Rice finally is going to win one?

Washington—California: California, breezing.

Santa Clara—Arkansas: The Broncos will need to man the airways against Arkansas' pass-conscious Razorbacks.

Oregon State—Washington State: Oregon State.

U. C. L. A.—Idaho: Very close. U. C. L. A.

Skipping lightly over the chalk-lines otherwise:

Kentucky over Xavier; Mississippi over Centenary; Tulane over Mercer.

Auto Racer Burns In Flaming Wreck

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21.—His car turned into a racing ball of fire by a broken fuel line, Fred Friday, midjet auto pilot, was critically burned at Gilmore stadium last night.

Fifteen thousand fans saw the plucky driver raise his hand to warn others when the flames burst out.

He turned into the infield and coasted to a stop then loosened his safety belt and sprang out with his clothes ablaze.

Breezy Briefs Of Sport From Brietz To You

BY EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—This should clear up the Don Budge situation... all the guy is waiting for (it's not the $25,000 difference between him and Jack Harris) but the national rankings.

The minute he named America's No. 1 amateur again, he'll turn pro in a hurry, unless all the dope we have is screwy, and will make his pro debut in Madison Square Garden Jan. 9 against Ellsworth Vines.... That swanky La Conga night club these evenings is none other than Tommy Goodwin, the golfer who already has a New York state title or two under his belt.

Jim Crowley, Fordham coach, now is a member of the Saints and Sinners club, one of our most exclusive... Eddie Branick secretary of the Giants and the most popular front office man in the majors (in this book, anyway) sails (Saturday for a tour of Italy.... Henry Armstrong says he doesn't fear Cefirino Garcia's right hand punch... well he'd better.

Yale had better be primed to the gills for Michigan... Fritz Crisler is doing a grand job out there and right now is our nomination for the country's top coach.

Some of the local papers have been getting Ed Williams out of the New York U. backfield to strengthen the team.... All we have to say is that we covered the game with North Carolina and if Williams wasn't the best back in the field, you can sue. A. Even the North Carolina fellers will admit it, we believe.... This guy gained more yardage than any other Violet back and he also was the goods on the defense.... Have you noticed that Harry Kipke is broadcasting the Michigan football games?.... Imagine his feelings.... Lowell Dawson, Tulane's smart coach, admits that new daughter of his is a smart-looking youngster.

Fielding H. Yost—his name means "Michigan football" to you fans—is in town and looks slyer than ever.... He told last night of a Michigan-Wolverines game in which the Wolverines scored one touchdown on a statue of liberty play and the second on a pass from a place-kick for field goal formation.... the Gopher end came dashing in to smear the latter play and as he jumped in the air to block the kick, Benny Friedman got up and passed into the end zone for the touchdown.... "Gosh darn it," cried the end, "that's the last play the coach told us to watch out for at the country club last night."

JAI ALAI GAME LOSING MONEY

Mike Jacobs Taking It On Chin In Promoting Sport

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Mike Jacobs, who is known as a man with a keen eye for a dollar, has discovered the perfect scheme for reducing his excess profits from the prize fight industry and, in a round-about way, giving the income tax collector a licking.

Mike, along with Lee Shubert, the theatrical man, is putting up the money for those dazzling exhibitions of Jai Alai (pronounced Hi-Li) seen nightly and Saturday matinees at the Hippodrome. It's been going on for a couple of months now, and the nightly loss is a satisfying $400 or better.

The nightly "nut," including salaries of the swarthy men who bang the ball about, advertising and hire of the hall, is $1,200, and the receipts have averaged around $800. At this rate it will, of course, take some time for the proprietors to get back their original investment of $40,000.

But they like it so well they have decided to keep it going at least another year.

Persons who want anything, know The News is the Want Medium in this vicinity. So read it.

YANKEES AGAIN, SAY BASEBALL HANDICAPPERS

Opinion That Percentage Can Beat Them Has Faded

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—With the World series safely tucked away in the records, let's go into a seance with baseball's armchair managers, hot-stove wisecracks and grandstand experts and wrestle with, according to them, some of 1939's knottier baseball problems.

In the army of fanatics that talk, eat and sleep baseball, 365 days of the year, one out of every three is a would-be manager. A consensus of these erstwhile Joe Experts, cigar-store handicappers and Major F. Q. Public in general, gives the apparent lowdown on what was wrong and what will be right with the major league outfits in the American league for 1939.

YANKEES—Every body he-wildly "overrated" and said the Yankees couldn't win their third straight world championship. Everything was against them, despite their power. Now, with the biggest crying towel, they're all wondering, "Who's going to step them?" Not a weak link in sight. It should be a breeze for four in a row.

RED SOX—Fine records of Lefty Grove and Jim Bagby plus the grand comeback of Jimmy Foxx brought owner Tom Yawkey his best finish since he started pouring millions into his team. The only question is how long can Manager Joe Cronin's veterans stand the gauntlet? Can Grove bring his ancient soup-bone back to life? A couple more new pitchers like Bagby and their pitching staff might look like something.

INDIANS—Did their expected annual fold-up. Pitchers can't seem to pitch and hitters hit when the heat's on. Bob Feller started the season as a bee's sting but flopped when Manager Oscar Vitt needed him. Their hitting, which had been touted as "well-distributed" certainly lived up to its name, in fact, hits were too few and too far between. A little more infield pep and a pair of pitchers to help Feller, Johnny Allen and the veteran Mel Harder.

TIGERS—Picked as the team for the Yankees to beat. They had plenty of power but their pitchers blew up faster than Hank Greenberg could hit homers. Changed managerial horses in mid-stream and played 631 ball under new pilot, Del Baker, to finish fourth. Changes in almost entire team will have to be affected to produce a contender.

SENATORS—Al Simmons was not figured to hit but did; Zeke Bonura was supposed to slug and didn't—that's why the club lacked balance. Ancient Harry Kelley will be the nucleus of the pitching staff, says manager Bucky Harris and that tells the sad story of Washington's plight—pitching.

WHITE SOX—Jimmy Dykes' club never recovered from the injuries that struck hard and fast. Monte Stratton came around and won his share of games but Luke Appling failed to recover soon enough. The deal that brought Gee Walker to the Sox and which was hailed as the winter's strategic masterpiece, flopped when Walker failed to hit. Pitchers and infielders wanted here.

ATHLETICS—They're still "building for the future" at Shibe park and how long it will take the venerable Connie Mack to mold a pennant winner, nobody knows or cares.

BROWNS—Last year Manager Gabby Street confidentially predicted his team was not a last-place club but the Browns landed in the cellar and Street was gone. A good-hitting team but short on pitchers. Buck Newsum, their best hurler, is being traded off as fast and as often as rumors can travel.

Famous Old Big Three Of Football Now Practically A Pushover For Rival Teams

BY PAT ROBINSON
NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Are Yale, Harvard and Princeton going to be the Big Three of football? Will the Big Three, once rulers of the gridiron, be relegated to the powers among the gridiron?

People asking such questions years ago would have been asked to the nearest psychopathic ward for observation. Now the old Big Three are being asked to be relegated to the powers among the gridiron.

The answer to both queries appears to be an emphatic "yes" unless the triumvirate adopts some plan as the regional scholars now in vogue at Cornell.

A few years ago Cornell despised football to such an extent that its coach had reason to open an opening game with Harvard. Then the old grads took a different view of the situation and adopted the regional scholar plan, and football talent again found its way back to the Cornell grid.

Harvard, Princeton and Yale are keeping their huge stadiums filled, they will have to have small teams. The most enthusiastic old grad cannot be expected to play on every Saturday.

Only the prospect of seeing a game make a good hiding in a college which may be a short on tradition but is decidedly long on football talent.

The writer does not intend to suggest that the Big Three go out in the open market to hire football players. But they could make scholarships for athletes, who also are students, so attractive that they could snare their fair share of gridiron talent.

The opening games this season showed which way the wind was blowing for Princeton, Harvard and Yale, when Columbia and Penn knocked off the Elis; Dartmouth trounced the Tigers and Brown and Cornell played rings around the Johnnies.

Oct. 8 will go down as the blackest day in the football history of Yale, Princeton and Harvard for it was on that date that Penn, Dartmouth and Cornell ran up a total of 63 points to none for the Big Three.

There was a time when the All-America selections were confined to members of the Big Three. This year the Big Three among them probably will not produce one candidate for that mythical team.

Off hand, one could name today at least 40 teams which would be 3 to 1 favorites to whip any one of the Big Three tomorrow.

SOPHS BATTLE IN GRID GAME

Xavier - Kentucky Clash To Feature Playing of Young Stars

(By Associated Press)
Sophomore talent will be under the microscope Saturday when Xavier and Kentucky universities clash in an interstate football contest at Cincinnati.

Clem Crowe, Xavier coach, intends to start four freshmen who achieved varsity status this season. Mentor Ab Kirwin of the Lexington Wildcats has half a dozen sophs groomed for the battle.

Kentucky engaged in a long session of both defensive and offensive drill yesterday. A short signal workout was scheduled today before the Wildcats start the bus trip to Cincinnati.

Coach Harry Baujan of Dayton university plans to start Fred George, Lima senior, at left end in the Miami tilt. George is to replace Carl Costel of Toledo. A leg injury probably will keep reserve quarterback Jean Stapenhorst out of the fray.

Buckeye Loop Points Evil Finger At Marshall Teams

BY FRITZ HOWELL
COLUMBUS, Oct. 21.—Football games, facts and fables! The Buckeye conference is pointing that accusing finger at Marshall again. Talk is being banded that the "Thundering Herd" is among those present when a little loop tees off for a 1939 pigskin parade.

Many Baker sports columnist as "Miami Student," pointing to Dayton-Toledo refusal to let Cam Henderson's scouts take a look at last Saturday's game.

The incident marks the second time in as many years that the Buckeye has protested Marshall actions, and there is talk that the Huntington school will be asked to leave the conference at the December meeting if Marshall has resigned by that time.

Of which should not worry "Cam" a lot. His team is country's top scorer with 213 points to none for the foe in four games and 103 of the markers were against a pair of helpless opponents, Miami and Wayne. Marshall, with a power like that probably could do right if not restricted by Buckeye schedule-making regulations.

Marshall is the Buckeye would have those Marshall gate receipts, and the "welcome" mat be turned aside down.

Up-date at the Oak Harbor-Port Denison High school scoreless tie weekend, not an offside play called during the first half, the penalties for that offense plentiful during the last two weeks.

The referee and umpire, noting several offside infractions during the early periods, took the headlines to task during the intermission. His answer was:

"I couldn't call 'em! I left my eye in the dressing room."

Those three victories chalked up Denison university, 1937 state champion, have been identical ones, 34 to 0. They call the big "point-a-man" squad, since they are exactly 34 on the roster.

Wittenberg and Marietta, which met Saturday at Springfield, have tied the same number of points against each other in their series.

FRESNO, Cal.—Chief of Police refused to serve 104 bench warrants for motorists who had failed to respond to traffic tags. His statement was that the traveling salesmen might bankrupt the city.

At Portland, Ore., others in whom California and two score San Francisco.

PORT WORTH, Tex.—Two pups ran without front legs to Lady, a pet of Policeman W. A. Huff. They will be "trained to walk on their hind legs. Veterinarians said they could live almost normally if they learn to walk on two which started way back in 1892. They've played five times, the Pioneers winning three, the Lutherans one, and one tilt being a scoreless tie. But each team has scored 63 points against the other.

The forward wall of Coach Gerald (Red) Armstrong's unbeaten Greenfield McClain High school team has set a mark for the rest of the scholastic stalwarts to fire at. The team has won five in a row, and only one line substitution, at guard, has been made.

And the former Wittenberg stars' backfield has played all but a couple of minutes. Down that way they're booming Capt. Everett Marcum as the state's outstanding line-man. He's a tackle. By the way, McClain's teams were unbeaten in 1932 and 1934, so this spurge is nothing new for 'em.

THREW LATERAL TO WRONG BACK

Cornell Player Obliges Rival By Tossing Ball to Him

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 21.—Now it comes out. Ever since Syracuse upset Cornell Saturday, every one has been wondering now come Vinnie Eichler, Big Red back, flipped the lateral which the Orange intercepted to set up the winning touchdown in the last two minutes.

Cornell was leading 17-12 and Eichler had just hit the line for six yards and a first down, when everybody's amazement, he tossed the lateral that Phil Allen of Syracuse snatched. Around the Orange campus this week, however, they're explaining that Allen just hollered to Eichler, "Here, Vinnie, throw it here; lateral to me." Vinnie obliged and his face is still red.

Fort Collins, Col.—Now if fullback Sherman Quine could do the one-step like he does the two-step, he'd be "some punkins" as a punter for Colorado State. He's pretty fair now, but Coach Harry Hughes, in his 28th season as State pilot, says if Harry would only learn to take one step instead of two before booting the ball he'd be a kicking "ball of fire."

Detroit—Gus Dorais, Detroit U. Coach, is thinking of starting a movement to have the regulation ball game cut from 60 to 35 minutes. In two major games this season—against Eastern college and Purdue—Gus' Titans led through 35 minutes, then were beaten down the stretch.

University, Ala.—They aren't kidding when they tag

Hercules Herky Mosley, "Bama" halfback, a "triple threat." So far this year he's averaged 7.4 yards each time he's carried the ball, has completed 18 of 34 passes, and has a punting average of 41 yards for 21 kicks.

South Bend, Ind.—Latest press release from Notre Dame has all the earmarks of a "grudge" build-up for tomorrow's tilt with Carnegie Tech. Lou Zontini, N. D. blocking back, the publicity says, wants to be a ball-carrier for this clash because he'd like a crack at Merl Condit, Carnegie back. Seems Condit intercepted a Zontini pass in last year's game, and the Skibos won, 3-7.

BERKELEY, Cal.—University of California debaters who made a 5,000-mile debating tour declare they found Pullman car porters as interested in America's economic ills as they did the audiences at the 11 colleges and universities where they debated.

"The ELEVEN OF DIAMONDS"

by BAYNARD H. KENDRICK

CHAPTER XIII

Stan Rice was angry when he left Millie weeping in her apartment—angry with himself for making her cry, angry with despotic destiny, who, frivolously enjoyed despoiling girls with too much beauty. He took it out on the amenable coupe by driving it nearly to Fort Lauderdale at twenty-five miles an hour, disregarding the infuriated sirens of delayed motorists behind him. Near Fort Lauderdale he refueled the car with gas, and himself with two Scotch highballs.

On the return trip, with food ahead, he passed everything on the road. Confronted with a large bowl of spaghetti, and a bottle of choice Chianti, life seemed slightly brighter. He ate slowly, and began thinking that the strands, emanating from Fowler's murder, were becoming involved as the tangled spaghetti.

He sighed and poured another glass of Chianti. Captain Vincent LeRoy never found murders so involved. He was a man of direct methods—given to forming conclusions based on sound judgment, and proving his conclusions correct, or incorrect, by arduous labor. The distress of delectable ladies was entirely clinical to LeRoy. He put a woman's tears into the cold type of a report—a revolting idea to Miles Standish Rice.

LeRoy would be pleased to hear about Millie. He would add the name of Ben Eckhardt to his already formed list of Class "A" suspects—unless the gambler was already thereon. A clever, patient detective would be assigned to digging out Eckhardt's history from birth. The Captain would either approve, or reject, the results.

Stan was certain the Captain was not through with Tolliver Farraday. Wild young men with too much money, desirous of hiding their escapades from stern fathers, were first for the mill, in LeRoy's estimation. It was true that if Eckhardt had an opportunity to kill Fowler, young Tolliver, or anyone in the club might have done so. But Stan believed that Eckhardt's possible motives of jealousy, and Dave Buffon's sixty thousand dollars, were forces more apt to drive men to murder than the bad check of a scared boy.

Amused at a chain of inconclusive reasoning, Stan settled the bill and phoned LeRoy from a booth in the restaurant.

"You better put a couple of men to watch Millie," he advised. "You might have another murder on your hands. She and Fowler were close as a pair of paper matches—and Ben Eckhardt may find it out."

"Eckhardt? Where does he come in?"

"He is one of Millie's boy friends," Stan said drily. "Were Fowler's prints on the eleven diamonds?"

LeRoy paused. Stan heard him speak softly to someone beside the phone. There was a minor umbrage in his reply: "It's not like you to hold out on the department, Stan. Fowler's fingerprints were on the card. What do you know that you're not telling?"

"Nothing, so help me, Vince," Stan was convincingly frank. "I thought Fowler put the card where we found it. Why, I don't know. What's the use of guessing?"

"I believe you. But that queer card clouds the issue. What about Caprilli?"

"If he's still in town, I'll see him tonight."

"You want a man to go with you? There may be trouble."

"I'm just paying him a friendly call. I think I better go alone."

"Have it your own way—but keep in touch."

Another call put Stan in touch with Weems at the Royal Palms. Mr. Farraday was not in his suite. Weems had instructions to communicate with Mr. Rice as soon as Tolliver and Eve returned. Stan said he would call later, and left the restaurant to kill time in a picture show.

It was after eleven when he came out. He drove down to the waterfront, near the foot of Sixth street, parked his car, and made his way past a number of charter boats out to the end of a dock. A trim speedboat, manned by two uniformed men, was bumping gently against the outside of a small cruiser.

The speedboat pulled away, leaving Stan bathed in the hard radiance of the spotlight.

Stan crossed the deck of the cruiser, and stepped down into the speedboat. One of the men recognized him and nodded. "Do you mind waiting?" the man asked. "We're expecting another party."

"The boss is expecting me," Stan spoke with an assurance which carried weight. He was far from feeling such assurance himself. He was taking a chance on a basis of much hearsay, and very little actual knowledge. "I want to go to the private landing. It might be better if I went alone."

The other man, at the wheel of the speedboat, turned. "Mr. Keefe didn't say anything about picking you up."

"And I said nothing about seeing Joe Keefe," Stan made a move as if to leave the speedboat. "Maybe I better hire a boat of my own."

"Maybe you had, friend," the second man said shortly. "But I wouldn't try to land it at the Four Leaf Clover's private dock. That's reserved for our boats. If you're going there—sit down and we'll take you."

The first man cast loose and pushed off. Water bubbled noisily at the stern. Stan leaned back and relaxed, giving way entirely to the soothing quality of speed on the water, and the brush of soft night wind against his face. Key Biscayne had loomed on the left, and the boat was an awing to the first gentle heave of the open sea, before it slackened speed. Stan stirred in his seat, and opened his eyes. The lights of the Four Leaf Clover were close ahead.

The big three-story barge was doing a rushing Sunday night business. Dedicated to amusement, it offered dancing in a Venetian atmosphere on the screened top deck, and a choice selection of food and drink on the second floor. But the real income was derived from the cloistered salon in the stern, where the click of the tiny ball and the rattle of cards drew a favored few admitted by invitation.

The speedboat passed the regular landing, brightly illuminated with Japanese lanterns, and circled toward the stern. There a narrow runway on floats extended twenty feet into the water, marked only with two red lanterns at the end. The stern quarter of the barge was doubly dark, due to the brightness and gaiety of the forward section.

As the boat touched the end of the runway an overhead flood light was turned on by some unseen watcher. The speedboat pulled away, leaving Stan bathed in the hard radiance of the spotlight.

The light went out as unexpectedly as it had been turned on. Before Stan's eyes could adjust themselves to the change, a man was standing less than a foot away, blocking the runway to the barge. "This is not for visitors. Your boatman must have made a mistake, mister. I'll row you around to the main landing."

"I asked to come here. I want to see the boss."

"Joe Keefe is the boss. His office is off the bar on the second floor. I'll row you around."

Stan turned his back to the man and watched the hypnotizing revolutions of an air beacon on the shore. "I'm Miles Standish Rice. Once Moneta Caprilli was accused of one thing he didn't do. He wouldn't be on this boat now—except for the fact that I found the man who committed that crime."

"I don't know what you're talking about, mister. You better see Mr. Keefe."

"I could have tipped off LeRoy," Stan was still watching the beacon. "Even with Moneta's private speedboat concealed under the Four Leaf Clover—he won't want to try a getaway when there's nothing against him. LeRoy's mad that he came back to Miami. I can save trouble—for both sides."

"Wait here."

Strange Case

Rudolph Sikora

Accused of slaying Edward Solomon, 35, who wooed and won the love of Mrs. Margaret Sikora despite the fact he was a "perfect mate", Rudolph Sikora is pictured in Chicago court where he is being tried. Principal witness for the prosecution is Mrs. Sikora, who wept for Solomon, not her husband, when she heard of the slaying several months ago. Mrs. Sikora told police at the time that her mate was a "perfect husband" but that she loved Solomon.

TO A $25 a Week Salesman, Who Should Be Earning $50. If you are stalled in your progress by some slow moving organization which won't appreciate your motives, we want to meet and talk with you. Life is too short to pay the penalty for someone else's short comings. Long ago we learned that salesmen are as good as you treat them; they are the most important cogs in any organization. If a salesman is happy and prosperous he can sell anything. We've learned that too. If you are seeking a new employer who worries more about his salesmen than he does about his self or his merchandise, you'll find him here.
